Friday, August 1st

At 4:52 pm, Sierra Madre Police responded to the 200 block of West Highland Avenue regarding a residential burglary report. Upon arrival, Officers were informed by the victim that she had previously rented her back house to the suspect, and when the suspect failed to pay rent, he returned his key and removed himself from the property. The victim's daughter gave the suspect her keys to allow the suspect to open the backhouse. The suspect spent nearly a half hour in the residence while the victim's daughter called the victim to come home. As the victim pulled up to her home, the suspect was backing out of the driveway. The victim used her vehicle to block him in to ask about the money still owed. The suspect threatened to hit the victim's vehicle, so she moved it and the suspect fled. Upon investigating, the victim discovered her window air conditioning unit and window curtains were missing from the backhouse that she had provided. The suspect also left with the victim's daughter's keys. This case has been forwarded to the Detectives Bureau.
